Vacation Bible School

The important days of Vacation Bible School are almost here. The front of this month's Banner tells the story. We look forward to a great group of boys and girls present for VBS. A special thank you is in order to Shelly Wagner and the team of volunteers who will be sharing their time and gifts. It will be a formative, inspirational, life-changing time for our kids. Pray that God will speak to them and that those who are ready will decide to receive Jesus Christ as their Savior and Lord. Especially pray on Thursday morning, the time of our decision service.

As a child, I attended Vacation Bible School every year at my home church, First Baptist Church, Fayetteville, Arkansas. As a pastor, I have played some role in VBS every year for more than fifty years of ministry.

Several years ago, I preached in chapel at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. After the service, a student approached me with a smile on his face. He introduced himself and I remembered him and his family. He reminded me that one day years earlier when I was at the city swimming pool with my sons, I pulled him out of the water when he was drowning. The lifeguard was not paying attention. He added that later during Vacation Bible School, I led him to faith in Jesus Christ and then put him back under the water, by baptism. Now he was at the seminary preparing for ministry. This story alone points to the eternal value of Vacation Bible School.

Ann Webb to Retire

Ann Webb has announced her retirement. In her letter read to the church, she wrote, "Thank you for permitting me to work with the children for the past four years. It has been an enjoyable and fulfilling experience. I believe that BRBC has made a difference in many of their lives. The difference is not due to my efforts alone, but to the many BRBC members who have volunteered their time to work with children."

She added: "The time has come for me to retire effective July 31. Jim would say this is the fourth time that I'll try retirement. Before the end of the next school year, I will be an octogenarian. In the words of George Strait, the time has come to 'ride off into the sunset.' It is not only due to my age that this is the right time for me to retire, but due to some personal health concerns and additional extended family needs.

Again, thank you for the opportunity to be part of the BRBC staff."

I speak on behalf of the entire church family in expressing our deep appreciation to Ann for her faithful, dedicated ministry with our children. Jim has been right by her side helping in numerous ways. A heartfelt thank you to the Webbs for their contribution to the life of our church.

Please pray for the Pastor, Church Staff, and Personnel Committee as we seek a Children's Director. We are primarily looking within the church family. Feel free to make suggestions.

Your Pastor,
Jon Stubblefield

Thank You

"Serving the Servants" Outreach ministry has gotten a fantastic response from our church members. I want to say thank you to all who volunteered.

September will be our church's first time to provide goodies for the HSV Police Dept. and gate workers. I will be calling on a few of you to provide for September.

Thank you and God bless,
Dianne Latiolais

In August our thoughts turn to SCHOOL. This month's Operation Christmas Child emphasis is on supplies for school.

Boxes are conveniently located in the halls of the church or you can give money for the committee to purchase needed items.

HEADED TO CHILDREN'S CAMP:

Children's Director Ann Webb (far left), Shelly Wagner and Bus Driver Bill Bettis along with 13 boys and girls bow for prayer with Pastor Jon Stubblefield as they prepare to leave for Camp Renu on June 28.

Fun and Games at camp:

While it's sweltering outside, stay cool with one or more of these reads:

No Journey Too Far by Carrie Turansky - Book 2 of the McAlister Family series. In 1909, Grace McAlister set sail for Canada as one of the thousands of British Home Children taken from their families and their homeland. Though she is fortunate enough to be adopted by wealthy parents, the secrets of her past are kept hidden for ten years until someone from her long-buried childhood arrives on her doorstep. With this new connection to her birth family, will she be brave enough to leave her sheltered life in Toronto and uncover the truth?

The Sentinels of Andersonville by Tracy Groot - When Emery Jones, an idealistic Confederate soldier, finally captures a Union soldier after a long standoff, he comes to respect his adversary on the trek to the infamous Andersonville prison and vows that he will be safe. When Emery meets Dance Pickett, an aristocratic Southern militiaman and the estranged son of a famous father, he discovers a kindred soul who believes that the Union prisoners are also God's children. Violet Stiles, who has devised a way to make much-needed buttons for the Confederate soldiers, goes to Andersonville seeking a shipment of supplies, and sees starving, dying, and dead Union soldiers. Appalled that her beloved father, a physician who volunteers there, hasn't done more, she decides to form a group to feed the prisoners, only to discover that doing the right thing can have unexpectedly difficult repercussions. Groot's three young Southern protagonists find friendship and love in the midst of adversity as they follow the moral path, even though it may mean death and dishonor. Groot's well-researched, inspirational historical tale, with its frank depiction of the atrocities at Andersonville and realistic portrayal of characters who question what it truly means to be Christian, will be compelling and memorable for a diverse audience.

Centralia: things are not what they seem - by Mike Delloso - Peter Ryan wakes up on a typical morning only to find his house empty, his wife and daughter nowhere to be found. His world is shattered after a phone call to a friend confirms the impossible: his wife and daughter died in a car accident he does not remember. Haunted by faint memories and flashes of details, Peter becomes convinced that something isn't right and begins to question reality. When he discovers a note in his daughter's handwriting, strange memories begin to surface that cause him to second-guess nearly everything he once believed. Suddenly armed men show up at Peter's home, turning the mysterious puzzle of his past into a dangerous game of cat and mouse. On the run and unsure whom to trust, Peter has to discover what's real and what isn't . . . before he loses everything.

"Lazy summer afternoons, walks along the beach; balmy evenings, cloudless skies, stars just out of reach. Sailing on a quiet lake, hammocks in the shade; these are the simple treasures of which August days are made." - Author unknown
